A honorarium of Rs 10,000 per GA per programme will be offered.

DUTIES AND REQUIREMENTS OF PART-TIME EXTERNAL MODERATOR

1. For each programme of study, all modules with Graduate Attributes (GAs) must be externally moderated.
2. The External Moderator must familiarize himself/herself with how the Graduate Attributes (GAs) are assessed and the criteria used for determining satisfactory performance as defined in the respective Module Specification Sheet (MSS). Details of the type of coursework (assignments, practicals, mini projects, etc.) and the assessment of Graduate Attributes (GAs) are provided in the MSS.
3. The External Moderator will be presented with the evaluation performed internally by the examiner and by the Internal Moderator in the case of projects in the final year of studies.
4. The External Moderator shall validate an assessment report in which he/she certifies that ALL the examination scripts, and/or continuous assessment material and/or projects have been assessed with respect to the defined Graduate Attributes (GAs) and their range statements.
5. For the assessment of projects in the final year, all the project reports should be externally moderated. The External Moderator for a project may conduct an interview.
6. A mini-project report or assignment report or project report, not satisfying the Graduate Attributes (GAs) and re-submitted by a student, should compulsorily be externally moderated to ensure that all prescribed Graduate Attributes (GAs) have been satisfactorily met.
7. In relation to Graduate Attributes (GAs) relevant coursework material, examination scripts and examination papers should be externally moderated within a time frame, to be defined by the examinations section, for smooth processing of examination papers and results.
10. The External Moderator shall be a 'Registered Professional Engineer' or equivalent registered with a recognized institution. External Moderators shall sign a Statement of Confidentiality upon appointment.
11. Any potential candidate, offered appointment as External Moderator, shall declare any conflict of interest, if applicable for the programme.

Moderation ensures that assessment of students' performance is of the required standard, fair, objective and consistent.
